CHURCHILL WINS 425-23

LONDON, March 30 (INS)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill received an overwhelming vote of confidence in the House of Commons today. Voting on a disputed domestic issue, the House stood by the Churchill regime, 425 votes to 23.

Glider Troops Rip Jap Lines

By CHARLES A. GRUMICH

NEW DELHI, India, March 30 (AP)—Glider-borne air Commandos, in another slashing attack on Jap communications in northern Burma, have damaged enemy headquarters at Mohnyin, RUSSIA—Double arrows (1) show Czernowitz, which Nazis have evacuated, and Kolomea, which opens road toward northern frontier of Czechoslovakia . . . while single arrow (2) indicates Nazi retreat from lower Ukrainian Bug on approaches to Odesa.

Nazis Pull Out Of Czyernowitz

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Evacuation of Czernowitz, gateway to the Balkans, was announced today by the German high command.

The communique admitted also that "German troops disengaged themselves" from the lower Ukrainian Bug, on the eastern approaches to Odesa.

Russia's communique last night said Red forces had stormed across the Prut river and were engaging the defenders of Czernowitz, Bucovina capital, in hand-to-hand fighting. This stronghold controls supply lines into southern Rumania and Bessarabia.

Other Russian forces were driving through the Carpathian foothills toward the northern frontier of Czechoslovakia, following the capture of Kolomea, Prut river town on the main Berlin-Lwow-Bucharest railway 45 miles northwest of Czernowitz.

Indicating another Russian threat to Lwow in old Poland, the Berlin broadcast said heavy fighting was under way with advance Red army formations in the area of Stanislaw, about 70 miles below Lwow and only 40 miles from the old border of Czechoslovakia on the Lwow-Bucharest rail line.

Another Berlin broadcast said the Russians were throwing 15 rifle divisions and three tank corps, upwards of 175,000 men, into the battle for the White Russian pathways to the Baltics in new smashes at the 100-mile German arc between Vitebsk and Chaussy.

Advance units of Marshal Zhukov's First Ukrainian army were reported less than 30 miles from the famous pass of the Tatars leading across the Carpathians into Carpatho-Ukraine, taken over from Czechoslovakia by Hungary in Hitler's reshuffle of the Balkans.

Commons in Debate On Churchill O.K. Test

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—With a resounding majority for the Churchill government in prospect, Commons took up again today the education bill amendment which the prime minister had raised to an issue demanding a vote of confidence.

Immediate question was whether the House should stand by its action Tuesday when it overrode the government for the first time in Churchill's four years of wartime leadership by adopting a measure providing equal pay for equal work by men and women teachers.

Many in the House, government supporters among them, were plainly provoked at their position.

"It would be more in keeping with the traditions of Parliament," said Sir John Wardlaw-Milne, Conservative, "if the government had introduced a measure in which the whole House could have shown their unbounded support for the government in the war effort on a vote of confidence, and not put the House in the position it is today, in which members have to eat their own words and vote against the very measure they supported so recently."

The House seats only 450 of its 615 members, and scores stood for the debate, among them Cabinet ministers.

Churchill spoke only once and briefly. That was to say that because of a limitation on debate he did not feel justified in offering any arguments on the main issue, but that he wished to "assure the House my not taking part in the debate is not due to any want of respect or a desire to shirk my duty."

80 miles southwest of Myitkyina, on the railway to Mandalay.

At the same time Chinese troops, pushing south toward Myitkyina, cut the main road 14 miles inside the Mogaung valley and established a road block a mile north of Laban, encircling two battalions of Jap 18th Division.

Other Chinese to the north of Shaduzup blasted the Japs out of a honeycomb of entrenchments with bayonets and grenades in fierce close-range combat.

Heavy fighting blazed along the India-Burma border where the Japs are driving toward Imphal, particularly in the Somra Hills tract northeast of Imphal, but there was little change in the situation.

Three hundred miles south in Arakan, the British announced capture of the western tunnel on the Maungdaw-Butthadaung road.

Bitter fighting had raged for weeks over the two tunnels piercing the Mayu range between Maungdaw and Butthadaung.

The Japs still hold the eastern tunnel which is 70 feet long.

In the offensive against Imphal, the Japs had gained a position on a hill near the Tamu-Palel road 35 miles southeast of Imphal and it was being attacked.

Heavy bombers in strength last night bombed the Jap supply area at Victoria lake north of Rangoon, while fighters on a sweep of the Arakan area yesterday destroyed 18 river craft and damaged 32 boats.

3500-Mile Jap Line Blasted

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, March 30 (AP)—Allied airmen swung harassing punches over 3500 miles of Pacific war front from the Central-Pacific Marshall into the Dutch East Indies to keep up their steady hammering at the Japs.

A Coronado search plane bombed Pakin island, 18 miles northwest of Ponape in the Eastern Carolines, for the first time on Monday, while Navy and Marine planes smashed again at enemy positions in the Marshalls.

The Pakin bombing served up the possibility that an invasion of Ponape, Japan's prime defense outpost for Truk, 440 miles to the west might be in the cards.

Liberators of the Fifth Air Force reached far west of New Guinea to start fires at Penfoei airbase in Timor island.

To the east along the New Guinea north coast, Liberators and patrol bombers hit Karkar island above Madang.

Next War?

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—Laborite R. Sorensen suggested today in the House of Commons that "in view of the possibility of another war, provision for construction of bombproof shelters should at least be considered" during the postwar building period.

Home Secretary Herbert S. Morrison replied that "such considerations form part of the general security policy of the country in peace and would not be lost sight of."

The Riddle Of Ploesti

PLOESTI OIL FIELDS . . . UNDER YANK BOMBARDMENT

WASHINGTON, March 30—Why are the Ploesti oil fields of Rumania still permitted to pump the lifeblood for Hitler's war machine?

They lie only 175 miles from the front lines of the Russian army smashing across the Prut river.

Why doesn't Russia bomb them out of existence or grant us bases behind her lines from which to do it?

These questions are stirring considerable conjecture in official circles, including the military.

Have the Ploesti oil fields suddenly become unimportant to the conduct of the war?

Have Nazi scientists developed synthetic sources of gasoline and lubricant to the stage where natural sources are unimportant?

Or is there another breach between Russia and her Anglo-American allies?

On Aug. 1, 1943, the Ploesti fields were considered sufficiently important for the 9th U. S. Air Force to send nearly 200 heavy Liberators from Middle East bases on a 2400-mile round-trip flight to strike them.

Russian bases even then were much closer, but U. S. airmen were obliged to span the Mediterranean and Bulgaria to hit the heavily defended fields estimated to be supplying two-thirds of Hitler's oil requirements.

Fifty-three American bombers and more than 500 American airmen were lost on that mission.

President Roosevelt described it as "a smashing victory which I believe will contribute materially to the shortening of the war and thus save countless lives."

Two weeks after the Ploesti raid, experts estimated the American bombers had knocked out 75 per cent of Rumania's oil production for two months and about 50 per cent for 12 months.

One of seven great refineries was undamaged. This had an annual productive capacity of 727,345 tons—in itself about one-fifth of the Nazi army's annual oil requirements.

Eight months have now elapsed since the Ploesti raid. The Russian lines have advanced to within a half-hour's flying distance from Ploesti and the oil fields, presumably, are back to at least 50 per cent production. The Russians have sent a few minor bombing sorties to Ploesti but the fields are still supplying at least one-third of the Nazi requirements.

If the U. S. command wants them smashed again it apparently must send out another 2400-mile mission.

If Russia desired, or permitted,

Allies at Anzio Beat Back 2 Nazi Attacks

NAPLES, March 30 (INS)—Enemy commanders, switching their attention from battered Cassino to the Anzio beachhead sector below Rome, hurled their forces forward into two futile attacks against Allied lines in that region today only to be beaten back without gaining a yard.

The assaults, made on a comparatively small scale, came while Allied artillery batteries within Cassino roared into action for the fourth straight day.

On all other fronts patrols were active, Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson announced.

Italy-Based Raiders Hit Sofia Rail Yard

NAPLES, March 30 (INS)—Powerful formations of Allied heavy and medium bombers struck a paralyzing blow at Germany's Balkan communications network last night, blasting the strategic rail yards in the Bulgarian capital of Sofia, headquarters spokesmen announced today.

Suburban Rome Bombed, Nazis Say

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The German-controlled Rome radio said that "enemy air formations" had bombed Rome's outskirts this morning.

The broadcast said one of the attacking planes was shot down.

Among the women wooed and won by Roger L. Gardner, suspect in the "Gardenia murder" in Los Angeles, was Mrs. Olga Abadie Green, 27, of New Orleans. She says she was married to Gardner, whose marriage proposals to two New York girls led to his arrest, in 1942.

Additional light was shed today on the Boston activities of Roger Lewis Gardner, 26-year-old Lothario charged with California's "Gardenia Murder" and accused of tricking at least nine women into hoax marriages, among them a respected Needham widow.

From an authoritative source, the Boston American learned that the suave, handsome impersonator boldly posed as a government official and took up residence in an exclusive Back Bay hotel, near the Charles river esplanade.

Four days before last Christmas, while was sought by the FBI as "the most badly wanted fugitive in the United States," he went through a marriage ceremony with Mrs. Anne R. Coppinger, 40, of Highland ave., Needham, widow of Edward Coppinger, Needham town constable.

Mrs. Coppinger, shocked and declaring herself "too sick" to give details of her acquaintance with the murder suspect, intends to seek annulment. She asserted they never lived as man and wife and declared:

FLED FROM BOSTON

"He is non-existent as far as I am concerned."

Justice Department agents revealed that he fled from the vicinity of Boston only a few hours before sleuths closed in to arrest him.

He dropped from sight, as far as the FBI was concerned, until two New York girls went to federal agents in that city with a complaint against a "Donald Douglas," representing himself as a government man, who had proposed marriage to both of them.

Shown photographs of Gardner, the girls identified him as "Douglas," the FBI disclosed, and his arrest in a fashionable midtown Manhattan apartment followed.

In the custody of 12 G-men, he was later arraigned before U. S. Commr. Garrett W. Cotter in New York and ordered held without bail. He pleaded not guilty to the

Chaplin Takes Trial Spotlight

LOS ANGELES, March 30 (INS)—Charlie Chaplin probably will take the witness stand in Federal Court today to defend himself against "White Slave" charges involving his one-time protegee, Joan Berry, it was indicated by the defense.

When Wednesday's session was adjourned 15 minutes early because the defense had no more witnesses ready, Chaplin's chief attorney, Jerry Giesler, was asked whether the white-haired comedian was ready to tell his own story to a jury.

"Well," he replied, "I'm moving pretty fast."

"Will Mr. Chaplin testify before you close your case?" he was asked.

"I certainly hope so," said Giesler.

The defense spent its first day in pecking at the fringes of repeated court rulings barring Chaplin's attorney from full exploration into red-headed Miss Berry's past life.

WRITER TESTIFIES

It produced a writer, Hans Ruesch, who testified that on the night of Dec. 30, 1942, he had taken Miss Berry to dinner and that she had appeared at his apartment early the next morning, drunk, bloody and disheveled, and remained there the rest of the night.

It produced J. Paul Getty, wealthy Oklahoma oil man and New York hotel owner, who was permitted to testify only that he knew Miss Berry and had seen her in Los Angeles and Tulsa, Okla.

It produced a Tulsa attorney, with checks which showed that some unidentified person and not Chaplin had paid two hotel bills and a railroad fare for Miss Berry.

N. Y. Quads Get First Feeding

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The Zareff quadruplets, born prematurely yesterday, had their first formula-feeding today. A bulletin issued by Sloane Hospital for Women revealed the three girls and one boy—probably the first quadruplets in New York city's history—slept well and were given sugar and water during the night. Their first feeding was at 9 a. m.

Mrs. Eleanor Zareff, 27, their mother, also rested comfortably, the hospital said, and this morning read newspaper accounts of the birth.

The infants, described by attendants as "nice active babies," occupied air-conditioned, oxygenated cribs side-by-side in Sloane's nursery. The star patients of the hospital alternately squaled, slept and ate, diaper and shirt-clad.

CROWD SEES BIRTHS

The multiple birth, to Harry Zareff, violinist, and his wife, had been anticipated and planned for. Mrs. Zareff was informed she probably would have quadruplets after X-rays were taken last December.

She entered the hospital over a month ago. The four infants were born in the hospital's delivery clinic yesterday morning—a month prematurely—with an audience which included every important obstetrician of the hospital and an overflowing gallery of students and nurses.

Dr. Benjamin L. Watson, medical director of the hospital, delivered the infants at about 10 minute intervals. He was assisted by two physicians, an anesthetist, four graduate nurses and a student nurse.

The delivery, Dr. Watson said, was normal and little anesthetic was required.

NEW SCHOOL EXCUSE

Zareff, a short, trim, mustached man, who is concert master for the Columbia Broadcasting System, refused to comment much about his fatherhood, explaining he sold exclusive rights to his story to the New York Daily News.

Teddy Zareff, 6, the couple's other child, was completely disinterested in his three little sisters. His only comment was: "Now, I'll have a new brother to play with."

The grandmother of the quadruplets, Mrs. Isidore Miller of Newark, N. J., said Teddy was unimpressed by the impending event but casually turned it to good use several months ago.

He was late to school, she said, and explained to his teacher that he had to help his mother put her shoes on "because she was expecting quadruplets." The teacher told Mrs. Miller later she thought Teddy must be an unusual, imaginative child because, although she had heard almost every excuse for tardiness, quadruplets was a brand new one.

—President Roosevelt's bronchitis was described today as "clearing up nicely" but the President's physician still asked that no appointments be made and that the Chief Executive ease up until he is entirely well.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said Mr. Roosevelt was remaining in the White House residential quarters and that Vice-Adm. Ross T. McIntire's ban on appointments had resulted in cancellation of several, including one with Lily Pons, the singer, and another with Cecil De Mille, the movie producer.

Woman Is Saved In Bridge Leap

A 30-year-old Cambridge woman, who said she "wanted to die," was frustrated in a suicide attempt today when two Cambridge policemen stopped her from jumping into the Charles River from West Boston bridge.

Patrolmen Terence Quinlan and Frank Gutoski saw the woman poised to jump as they drove across the bridge. Quinlan grabbed her as she stared at the water below.

She was taken to Cambridge police headquarters where she gave her name as Bouglana Korkic of Berkshire st., Cambridge. She said she had "a lot of disappointments."

Finns Fear Coup On Nazi Pattern

STOCKHOLM, March 30 (INS)—Direct peace negotiations were reported resumed today between Soviet Russia and Finland, whose populace was pictured as suspecting their German ally of planning a coup against them identical to those staged in the Balkans.

Discussions have been reopened in both Moscow and Stockholm, well-informed quarters declared, pointing to "many signs" that intense diplomatic activity again is under way between the two warring nations.

Helsinki and Moscow both maintained a complete official silence, but the influential newspaper Dagens Nyheter declared that important circles within the Finnish Social Democratic party have been "very active" against the government's policy of continuing the war.

4-Fs Face Union Curb

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—Any 4-Fs assigned to work in essential civilian or war industries under provisions of legislation being drafted by a House military sub-committee presumably will have to join a union if the shop to which they are assigned is a union shop.

Undersecretary of War Patterson explained they would remain "in a civilian status" and be entitled to "wages and other ordinary incidents of civilian employment."

The "ordinary incidents," he added, might include joining a union as a condition to receiving employment, if that be one of the conditions of employment affecting other workers in the shop to which a 4-F is assigned.

Glass Chips in Brandy Probed by Portugal

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30 (AP)—"Everything possible" is being done to investigate the source of glass fragments reportedly contained in an impounded shipment of 30,000 cases of Portuguese brandy in Los Angeles, the office of Dr. E. Goulart da Costa, Portuguese consul, said.

The reported incident was termed by the consulate as "unfortunate."

commission will ask draft deferments for key men 22 through 25 years old.

Considerably larger than a tentative list compiled last week, today's list represents activities now considered most important in the light of immediate military needs.

The WPB, Army, Navy and Maritime Commission recommendations for deferments for men 22 through 25 will be limited to the following production items, including production of component parts for these items:

ARMY LIST—Amphibious "ducks"; tires and tubes (aircraft, combat and heavy-duty), including necessary tire cord, fabric and molds; Radar; rockets; critical components for trucks 2½ tons and heavier, including truck trailers and class one and class two tractors; research and development work specifically assigned by the technical services; certain airplanes to be listed in detail later.

NAVY LIST—Landing craft; rockets; submarines; aircraft carriers; high capacity ammunition; Radar; maintenance of ships and aircraft for the fleet; certain airplanes to be detailed later.

MARITIME LIST—All tanker construction; combat-loaded cargo and transport ships (AKAS and APAS).

"Production of components (parts) in critical short supply for the above listed programs shall receive the same consideration as the end product listed, to the extent required in each plant," WPB said in a telegram to its regional directors.

Men under 22 were not mentioned in the announcement, and manufacturing programs not listed were apparently out in the cold as regards government agency support for deferments of workers under 26.

Even in programs listed, the telegram made it clear endorsement of employers' requests for deferments must be limited to specific individuals whose work "requires an extreme or specialized skill or knowledge or a high educational or specialized qualification; and then only when the individual employee is irreplaceable from other less urgent work within the plant or by recruitment."

Diphtheria Warning Issued by Bay State

Warning that diphtheria cases are showing a sharp upward trend throughout the Commonwealth this year, State Health Comr. Viado A. Getting today urged Massachusetts parents to have all unprotected children inoculated.

A total of 73 diphtheria cases have been reported to the state department so far, he said, up to and including March 24—compared with only 20 cases reported last year in the same period.

"It had been expected," Comr. Getting said, "that 1944 would be a low year for diphtheria, but this sudden increase indicates that unfortunately there are far too many children in the state who have failed to receive the necessary diphtheria inoculations."

"No child should be allowed to risk the possibility of catching this frequently dangerous disease, particularly during wartime when shifting populations make the disease more difficult to control."

"The importance of immunization cannot be overemphasized."

Such inoculations, Dr. Getting stated, can be performed at the family doctor's office, at immunization clinics operated by local boards of health, or by school doctors and nurses. Only three injections of toxoid are necessary and they are "safe, harmless and quickly given."

Treatments may be made when the child is six to nine months old, and an additional dose, called the "booster dose," given when he enters school.

Comr. Getting said diphtheria cases have been reported this year from the following communities: Boston, Arlington, Dartmouth, Everett, Fall River, Lawrence, Lowell, Ludlow, Mattapoisett, Methuen, Melrose, New Bedford, Quincy, Salem, Somerville and Taunton.

5-State Flood Takes 5 Lives

By the Associated Press
Flooded rivers swirled over lowlands in Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and north Louisiana today, causing heavy property damage, blocking highways and drowning at least five persons.

The American Red Cross sheltered 30 persons in the Gadsden, Ala., area and expected the number to increase to 200 if streams continued to rise. Montgomery, Ala., prepared to move 25 to 30 families from low-lying sections.

Two Georgia towns, Dover on the Ogeechee river, and Newton on the Flint river, were inundated. A 7500-horsepower hydro-electric plant on the Flint at Albany, Ga., was thrown out of operation. Operation of the Reichholds Chemical Co. plant at Fox, Ala., on the Warrior river was suspended when the river rose to 61.5 feet.

New Angle Seen In Wilson Case

Asserting that detectives are "on the verge of something new" in connection with the murder career of John L. "Limex" Wilson, self-confessed killer of women, Capt. Louis DiSessa of the Charlestown police today ordered the detention of a Charlestown man of Wilson's age.

The man's arrest followed a two-hour grilling, around midnight, of another man described as a "possible witness" to a slaying. He was released, but information which he gave led officers to take the latest suspect into custody.

Capt. DiSessa said the suspect would be questioned during the day by homicide squad experts in the presence of police stenographers.

Vet Wins $3500 For Disability

Joseph L. Poretsky of Clinton, 54, a World War I veteran, looked forward to a $3500 windfall today plus $57.50 a month, as result of a victory over the government in federal court.

In 1939, the Veterans' Bureau suspended payments of $57.50 a month which he had received 17 years for total disability suffered in the service. The bureau asserted he had recovered sufficiently to earn a living.

Poretsky's conservator, the Old Colony Trust Co., filed suit to recover for him. The government brought out Poretsky found employment at the Navy Yard and with the Army Ordnance Department at Ayer.

Judge George C. Sweeney directed the jury to decide whether Poretsky had been totally disabled at the time his payments were suspended. The jury found for the veteran, who will receive accumulated back payments and monthly checks in the future.

Judge Raps Bet Welsher

Suddenly halting a case today in Lynn court, Judge Ralph W. Reeve declared that "a cheap welsher is the worst type of individual" and gave the defendant until tomorrow to pay off a horse win of $103.

Henry A. Newth, 38, of School st., Lynn, was charged in the case with illegally registering bets and with larceny.

According to testimony by Joseph F. Irving of Liberty st., a Lynn General Electric Co. worker, he plunged $40 on four horses with Newth, hoping to win enough money for a new set of teeth and some eyeglasses.

But Newth told Irving, the latter said, that all four horses had run out of the money. Later that evening, however, Irving learned that one nag had come in for the sum of $103.

Attorney for Lonergeran Makes Final Argument

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Final arguments to save Wayne Lonergeran from the electric chair in the slaying of his wealthy wife, Patricia, were begun before an all-male jury in General Sessions Court today by Defense Counsel Edward V. Broderick.

The fiery attorney gave no indication of how long his summation would take.

Doors to the courtroom were locked and no spectators or newspapermen were allowed to enter or leave during his address on the orders of Judge James G. Garrett.

The prosecution summation was to be presented by Asst. Dist. Atty. Jacob Krutzy when Broderick concluded.

It was considered unlikely that Judge Wallace would charge the all-male jury before tomorrow.

Broderick unloosed the trial's biggest surprise when he abruptly terminated his case in General Sessions Court yesterday after calling only three witnesses, none of whom made any attempt to tear down the chain of evidence forged by the state.

The stolid, 26-year-old defendant did not testify. Although Broderick, in preliminary maneuvers, had hinted at insanity and even obtained permission for a psychiatrist to examine Lonergeran, he concluded his case without offering any clear-cut defense plea.

He did try to introduce reports of a Toronto mental hospital concerning Lonergeran's late mother, but Judge Wallace barred them on the ground no foundation had been laid. The psychiatrist was not called to the stand.

Congress Told Of Melrose Hero

The thrilling story of the heroic exploits of Edward O'Brien, 19-year-old Seabee from Melrose, today was placed in the Congressional Record by Sen. David L. Walsh.

O'Brien's dramatic story was related by Lee Van Atta, International News Service correspondent in the South Pacific, and published in the Boston American March 9.

The young hero is the son of Edward P. O'Brien of Porter st., Melrose. A graduate of St. Joseph's Parochial school, Wakefield, he was a Stoneham high school sophomore when he enlisted in the Seabees July 28, 1942.

O'Brien was credited with killing 16 Japs single-handed in one night on Los Negros Island. He also organized a patrol of 10 other Seabees and they held the fort for five days, killing 320 Japs.

Army Pilots Bag 11,042 Planes

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—The Army Air Forces destroyed 9463 enemy planes in the air and 1579 on the ground in 1943, Secretary of War Stimson reported today, while losing 2809 in aerial combat and 76 on the ground. This edge of nearly four to one, said the Secretary, represented a careful tabulation of results from all theaters. As the scale of the offensive increased, he said, the Air Forces destroyed almost twice as many enemy planes in the last six months of the year as in the first half of 1943, and its own losses increased about 80 per cent in that period.

Yanks Reveal Nazis Use Wooden Bullets

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., March 30 (AP)—Enemy soldiers infiltrating American lines in Italy fire wooden bullets capable of wounding the Yanks but of such short range that the German lines are protected, veterans at Percy Jones Hospital said today.

Doris Duke Gets Court Lawyer

ELIZABETH, N. J., March 30 (AP)—A court-appointed lawyer will defend Doris Duke Cromwell, reputedly the world's wealthiest woman, in James H. R. Cromwell's fight to invalidate her divorce and substitute one of his own.

Court-appointed lawyers usually are the prerogative of persons who cannot afford to hire counsel, but the tobacco heiress chose to ignore her husband's chancery court litigation and advisory master Douglas Herr, presiding, named Norbert T. Burke, Elizabeth attorney, as "counsel of defense" because "novel and important issues of law may be involved."

The bullet, they said, has a range of 100 to 200 yards, sufficient to wound an adversary but not enough to carry back into German lines. It is like a regulation .30-caliber shell with a brass casing and a hard wood "like mahogany" pressed inside.

"We seized four of five cases of these wooden bullets outside of Salerno," said Pvt. John B. Melze, 27, of Saginaw.

Sergt. Raymond J. Michael of Peoria, Ill., wounded near Cassino, said the wooden bullets were used by the Germans at night. He explained:

"The Jerries would send a patrol back of our lines and then they'd open up on our rear with these wooden things. The range was short and they were sure with them the bullets wouldn't go on past us and into the German lines."

Dies Trying to Save Parents From Flames

PITTSBURGH, March 30 (AP)—Robert Exler, 17, an Air Force cadet reservist, burned to death with his parents today after he had dashed back into their smoke-filled home in suburban Bradnock in a vain rescue attempt.

He re-entered the home after other members of the family had fled when he learned his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Exler, Sr., had not escaped.

Shaw Offers Fortune For 42-Letter Alphabet

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—George Bernard Shaw declared today that he was willing to bequeath his entire fortune to establish a new 42-letter English alphabet which would represent all speech sounds in the language.

In a letter to the Times of London endorsing basic English, Shaw said he had used the alphabet—which he devised himself—for years to save time in his own writing.

"If only the British government were as intelligent as I am," he jibed.

"We have no English alphabet," Shaw wrote. "English speech has 42 sounds which must be spellable before the language can be written

Picked as Gem Thief in Malden

Employees of a Malden jewelry store identified William L. Murphy, 35, of Boston, in the police lineup today, as the man who was in the store when $1500 in rings disappeared.

Albert Berkman of Maverick st., Chelsea, store manager, and Norman Rosenthal of Summer st., Malden, told police Murphy was loitering in Kay's Jewelry Store a short time before the rings were missed.

Murphy was previously identified as connected with jewelry thefts totaling $4500 from stores in Waltham, Worcester, Beverly and Salem.

Sergt. Arthur Tiernan said he was holding two men on suspicion of receiving stolen goods.

Leading Nazi Ace Killed in Battle

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—The German high command acknowledged today loss of one of its greatest aces, Col. Wilke, in an air battle presumably with British or American fliers over western Europe.

Col. Wilke, who claimed to have shot down 151 planes, was one of the German air force's "most eminent fighter pilots and squadron leaders," said the German communique.

or read intelligently. To do this with 26 letters we have to resort to permutations and combinations. Pointing out the time-saving advantage of his proposed system, Shaw said that only a fraction of a second is lost if a man spells "though" with six letters instead of two, but that fraction should be multiplied by the total time lost throughout the British Empire and North America.

Casey-Casey Play Breaks Jap Attack

Jap mortar fire was causing "casualties and disorganization" among American advanced infantry on Guadalcanal, as the Army described it, when Capt. John F. Casey, Jr., of Allston worked his way forward to direct artillery fire.

Wiggling on his belly was safer than walking but it didn't enable him to see the Jap positions clearly enough. So Capt. Casey stood and took a good look. Enemy machine gun fire and snipers' bullets missed him by fractions of inches but the captain didn't flatten himself until his eyes photographed in his memory what he wanted to see.

Thereafter, a Casey - to - Casey play "neutralized the enemy mortar positions and effectively broke up an enemy assault," say the Army records.

Over his field telephone, Capt. John called Maj. Tom Casey, his brother, operations officer of an artillery unit waiting word on how the Japs were disposed.

Maj. Tom got the range. His batteries thundered. The Jap mortars went skyward and so did a lot of Japs.

Capt. John was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action, came down with malaria and was sent to California for hospitalization.

Maj. Tom is still directing artillery fire at the Japs somewhere in the Pacific.

The Caseys are sons of Dr. John

F. Casey, Franklin st., Allston, physician-in-chief of St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Tom is 25, John 27.

A third brother, Edward, 20, Harvard '43, is a second lieutenant at Camp Rucker, Ala. A fourth, George, 22, transferred from Harvard to West Point as an air cadet.

A fifth, William, 16, will be graduated from Boston Latin School this year.

Asks $850 in OPA Rent-Ceiling Suit

William J. Tracey of School st., Somerville, filed suit for $850 in Federal court today against Harry and Israel Marcus, of Brookline, asserting they violated OPA rent control regulations by exceeding the ceiling price of his apartment.

Tracey declared the Brookline landlords demanded and received $45 a month from him over a 17-month period ending March 1. He said the OPA ceiling for the apartment was $42.50. He brought suit under OPA's multiple-damage regulations.

What G. I.'s Want: It's a Style Show

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, March 30 (AP)—When American Red Cross girls asked G. I.'s at a New Guinea base what sort of show they would like to see more than anything else, the popular answer was: "A fashion show with real American girls wearing the latest American styles."

So last night they got it. Wearing everything from play suits to evening gowns, the Red Cross girls appeared before a goodly crowd of New Guinea veterans.

While the mistress of ceremonies described one gown as "the ultimate in sophistication," a soldier in the last row sang out with "and she looks good, too." All of them did.

Zoo Tells

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—R. Marlin Perkins, Buffalo zoo curator, is helping parents find the missing pieces to the jig-saw puzzles military censors sometimes make of their overseas sons' letters.

Perkins uses his knowledge of animals and birds to deduce their whereabouts.

For instance, says Perkins: "A man called recently and said, 'The censor chops holes in letters whenever my son mentions his overseas station. He carved the outline of an animal on a piece of wood and sent it to me. Can you tell me where this animal is found?'"

"The animal was a hyrax, mostly found in North Africa."

One of the civilian casualties of this war has been the store buyer. Like peace on earth and the 30c Martini he has gone the way of all flesh. Not, of course, that there are no more buyers in title, there are thousands of us haunting the marts of merchandise, but we are less than hush of our former selves. The real buyer of today is the demon manufacturer who takes our orders, puts our backs, and then ships us, say a year or two hence, exactly what we please. It's a terrible state of affairs and I have written my congressman repeatedly about it but as yet I have seen no reversal of the trend. Ordinarily I wouldn't grouse about this condition but it has made some of my old concepts about my value to this emporium a bit silly, to say the least. For years I have been a buyer and what little success in making Zarah has had I have initiated was the result of my selective sense. I always believed that I could pick out and every time we made a dime blushed in a self-conscious way. What hokey, what Dewey, and what phoney, as my youngest so often puts it, because, ever since I got the gate and my manufacturers took over, the House of Zira has sold more goods and made more money B.M.'s than ever in its history. My ego, that Flor de la Pasion of tender memory, is taking a terrible beating and that, of course, is the saddest of all deflations. My boys, too, are in a turmoil. The fact that I get more salary than all my slaves combined was always hard to justify. Today, I fear, it's impossible.

Monarchy Deal For Spain Seen

LONDON, March 30 (INS)—Secret negotiations for the restoration of the monarchy in Spain now are being completed, according to an article in the London Daily Express by foreign editor Charles Foley.

Under plans afoot, said Foley, the new king would be Don Juan, son of the late King Alfonso XIII, last king of Spain who abdicated in 1931. If the plans are followed through, Generalissimo Franco would go into "retirement" abroad.

Foley said Don Juan is willing to return to Spain from his exile in Switzerland only if Spain's pro-Axis policy is abandoned.

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—The Moscow radio, in a broadcast reported by U. S. government monitors, said today that the son of German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop had arrived in Madrid on what "responsible circles in the Spanish capital" describe as an "unofficial visit."

Clash of Jews Arabs Feared

JERUSALEM, March 30 (AP)—The situation in Palestine on the eve of the expiration of the British White Paper under which Jewish and Arab matters have been regulated since 1939 found both sides considerably although illegally armed today, with the outlook admittedly tense.

Authorities were outspokenly hopeful, however, that major clashes could be averted. A dusk curfew has been imposed and death is the penalty for extreme terrorist activities.

The fiercest dust storms in 15 years rage across the Sinai desert, cutting off Palestine rail and road communications with Egypt.

The 1939 white paper, to which neither the Arabs nor Jews agreed, provided that 75,000 Jewish immigrants might be admitted to Palestine up to March 31, 1944.

Reds Back Down On Badoglio OK

MOSCOW, March 30 (AP)—A front-page editorial in the government newspaper Izvestia today explained that the exchange of envoys with the Italian regime of Marshal Badoglio did not mean full recognition of his government and in effect called on Britain and the United States for a change in the government in Italy.

Izvestia expressed irritation with American and British newspapers which, it said, had interpreted the exchange of envoys as meaning Soviet support for undemocratic elements in Italy. It added the Soviet is willing to have immediate changes in the Badoglio government without waiting for the occupation of Rome.

Drive to Spare Rome Spreads

Special to the Boston American

NEW YORK, March 30.—Pleading that Rome be spared to humanity, prominent educators, churchmen of various faiths, writers, public officials, art authorities and composers urged today that neutral diplomatic sources be used to secure the evacuation from the Eternal City of all troops and military installations.

While a resolution from Boston school children was forwarded to President Roosevelt asking that American Army leaders be instructed to devise a way to declare Rome an "open city," clergy and laity alike in all parts of the nation joined in expressing the hope that the Holy City will not be made a battlefield.

And in far-off Canberra, Australia, Prime Minister Curtin gave assurance that the immunity of Vatican City as a neutral always will be respected.

The belief is general that the cessation of military hostilities in and about Rome can be brought about through mutual discussion of Army authorities on both sides, acting, possibly, through the emissaries of some neutral state, such as Switzerland.

Thomas Craven, noted art critic and author, is in favor of a discussion between the military of both sides, if such can be arranged.

"If the Germans act in good faith, all well and good," he said, "but we have to make sure that they are not hiding behind the monuments and relics to carry on their warfare, hoping to lure us into a psychological trap."

TAKE OFF EXCESS FAT

MANY LOSE 3 to 5 lbs. a week yet EAT plenty No Reducing Drugs No Exercises No Massage

MEN and women all over this country are reporting remarkable results in losing weight easily. Many report losing 20 pounds a month and more. They are following the Easy Reducing Plan of Dr. Farrish, well-known physician and Editor, former chief of a military hospital in this country and state public health officer. Dr. Farrish's Easy Reducing Plan makes reducing a pleasure because it allows you to EAT PLENTY, requires no exercise, HARMLESS, too, because it calls for no drugs. Here is Dr. Farrish's Easy Reducing Plan EX-ACTLY as given over the air to millions: For lunch, take 3 teaspoonfuls of CAL-PAR in a glass of fruit juice or any beverage. Take nothing else for lunch except a cup of coffee if desired. For breakfast and dinner EAT THE FOOD YOU WANT TO EAT, but eat sensibly. Don't eat out fatty, starchy foods—just eat down on them. By following Dr. Farrish's Easy Reducing Plan you cut down your daily calorie intake, thus losing weight naturally. You needn't suffer for a single hungry moment. Most overweight people should be helped by Dr. Farrish's Easy Reducing Plan. Try it and you and your friends will be amazed at the improvement. CAL-PAR is not a reducing drug—not a reducing agent, a food fortifying the above reducing regimen with certain essential minerals and vitamins. Get CAL-PAR today.

10 Gobbledygook Ban In One Capital Office

WASHINGTON, March 30 (AP)—You're familiar by now with those strange sounds that come out of Washington's high places.

Sometimes it's something like "imminent activation of this overall policy, following experimentation at the local level, is contemplated, the entire program stemming from implementation of subsection 7 (2-B), title 11, the code as amended, subject to modifications in procedure based upon precedents."

That, says Maury Maverick, chairman of the Smaller War Plants Corp., is gobbledygook talk. Maverick has been simmering over red-tape language for years. He finally boiled over the other day when he tried to decipher an office report.

Throwing the report into the wastebasket, he reeled off this memo to his employees:

"The naval officer who wired 'sighted sub—sank same' told the whole story. Put the subject matter—the point—and even the conclusion, in the opening paragraph and the whole story on one page. Period! If a lengthy explanation, statistical matter, or such is necessary, use attachments."

"Stay off the gobbledygook language. It only fouls people up. For the Lord's sake, be short and say what you're talking about! Let's stop 'pointing up' programs, 'finalizing' contracts that 'stem from' district, regional or Washington 'levels.' There are no 'levels'—local government is as high as Washington government. No more patterns, effectuating, dynamics. Anyone using the words 'activation' or 'implementation' will be shot."

Yank Parade Gives Londoners a Thrill

LONDON, March 30 (INS)—American invasion troops today staged their biggest parade in London since Armistice Day, marching in close formation from Westminster to Trafalgar sq.

The colorful spectacle marked "United States Day" in "Salute to the Soldier Week" during which Londoners are raising $700,000,000 in war bond subscriptions.

The parade was strung out half a mile. Thousands of spectators flanked famous Westminster bridge as the Yanks passed Parliament buildings and marched into jammed Trafalgar sq.

Approximately 3000 troops were in line.

In the van of the sun-browned American column was the American flag with a company of infantry. Then came a WAC detachment. Light tanks, howitzers and air force detachment followed. More tanks, mechanized cavalry units and anti-aircraft groups then came, interspersed with floats carrying aircraft and other displays.

The Americans, with the exception of the military police, wore full battle dress and displayed every type of invasion weapon.

A master of ceremonies, broadcasting to the crowd, elicited enthusiastic cheers when he declared:

"These are the men who will strike the blow; these are the weapons which will launch the invasion."

70,000 Miners Idle in Britain

LONDON, March 30 (AP)—An estimated 70,000 miners were idle at more than 50 Yorkshire mines today as Britain's coal strike spread to at least three other pits in the row over a ruling depriving miners of taking coal home without charge.

In the strike of apprentices at Scottish shipyards, which Labor Minister Ernest Bevin has said was fomented by "a few irresponsible mischief makers," only a few had returned to work. An estimated 26,000 youths were involved in demands for the exemption of apprentices from a provision whereby they can be drafted for the coal mines.

12 House Group Gives Vets' Bill Final Push

By FRANK REILLY

Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 30—Hailing the "G-I bill of rights" as the "most important legislation to come before this committee during my 23 years in Congress," Chairman John E. Rankin of the House veterans' committee declared today that the omnibus bill will be reported to the floor of the House and passed in the week of April 17.

The measure, which provides a hospitalization, educational and rehabilitation program for service men and women, already has been passed 49-0 by the Senate and House. Hearings were due to be completed by tonight.

Past National Comdr. Harry Colmery of the American Legion came from Topeka, Kan., to present the closing arguments on behalf of the bill, after Omar Ketchum, legislative agent for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and prominent educators asked for speedy enactment of the measure.

Two of the chief witnesses who appeared at the hearing told Chairman John E. Rankin of Mississippi that discharged veterans who avail themselves of government-financed education should be free agents and not subject to federally controlled educational programs.

The two were Prof. Cloyd H. Marvin of George Washington University and Dr. George F. Zook, president of the American Council on Education.

Both warned the committee that unless the educational provisions in the bill are carefully phrased, there will be danger that several bureaucracies in Washington might control the education of veterans.

The government should have no control, they declared, except to pay the tuition and monthly allowance of the veterans, and only educators should be responsible for their supervision and guidance.

JVA Girls Make Knitted Blanket

Two more girls have joined the "Cabin Club" Corps of the Junior Victory Army at Laconia, N. H., which is giving a new spurt to their Home Front war activities under leadership of Lucille Cormier, the new commander.

The new recruits are Jacqueline Thibodeau, Rowell st., and Patricia Paquette, Highland st.

Capt. Marcelle Pecteau reports that after the last meeting in their school room, the girls had completed 33 squares for the knitted blanket for the Red Cross. They also made bunnies for the babies' ward of the hospital.

A program of entertainment is to be given at future sessions. Mrs. George Pooler is adult sponsor of the corps.

Salvaging of kitchen fats, waste paper and other materials needed by the government for production of weapons is being carried out by the "Brighton Club" Corps of Brighton, commanded by Theresa Marchione, Eastburne pl., according to the report of the captain, Mary McCormick. The girls also responded to a school appeal for cast-off clothing.

Mary Ann Anthony, Hancock ave., Medford, commander of a corps of 15 boys and girls, reports her members are also busy in salvage activities. More than 10,000 lbs. of scrap metal was collected by her schoolmates.

Mr. Hull's Secrecy

"Open covenants of peace openly arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understanding of any kind, but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly and in the public view."—Woodrow Wilson in an address to Congress on January 8, 1918. (This is also one of the Fourteen Points.)

SECRETARY OF STATE HULL, and President Roosevelt, who profess such fervent admiration for President Wilson, have, phrase for phrase, tossed that famous dictum of their political mentor overboard.

The Roosevelt Administration deals in secret covenants secretly arrived at. It believes entirely in "private international undertakings" of all kinds.

Its diplomacy is not frank and it is most certainly NOT "IN THE PUBLIC VIEW."

As a glaring instance of how completely the American people are in the dark concerning what is going on between the United States and its Allies in regard to postwar agreements and policies there is Secretary Hull's recent "statement" of U. S. foreign policy.

Mr. Hull's "clarification" of the postwar policy of the United States is nothing but a ridiculous case of double talk.

His explanations are not intended to clarify, but to confuse.

It is said he has explained IN PRIVATE to a score or more of Republican Congressmen what he means.

Why in private?

Why not explain in public what the Administration means and intends?

Can the plans be something they are afraid to make public?

Secretary Hull's attitude expresses merely the constant and characteristic attitude of the Administration.

Mr. Roosevelt and his entourage never want to tell the people anything. They seem to regard the desire of the people to know what their own government is doing as a piece of intolerable impudence.

In the seventeen points in Mr. Hull's recent statement on the foreign policy of the United States there is nothing that indicates that there is a definite policy about anything in his mind.

There isn't a single line that reveals to the American people what was SPECIFICALLY DECIDED at Moscow or Teheran in regard to postwar matters.

The people will learn nothing in the Hull statement as to the Administration's non-military objectives.

Such secretiveness is dangerous in a democracy.

It leads to universal suspicion of the motives and acts of the Administration.

OUR TWO major Allies, England and Russia, have announced their postwar foreign policies.

Prime Minister Churchill has said that he did not become the King's first minister in order to lessen the power of the British Empire.

The implications in that are plain enough, and although Mr. Churchill in his most recent broadcast threw no further light on foreign policy, he did give to the people of Britain in minute detail the Government's postwar social policies.

Marshal Stalin has made plain to the world Russia's postwar foreign policy. It is to tear up the Atlantic Charter and to Communize as much of Europe as he can.

Only the government of the United States is befogged on both foreign and postwar domestic policies.

No more stinging criticism of this policy of secrecy on the part of the Administration has been made than by Governor Dewey.

He demands to know why the accidental killing of 410 of our paratroopers by American anti-aircraft guns in Sicily was not revealed to the people until EIGHT MONTHS had elapsed and why nothing has been told us YET of what postwar policies were decided on at Teheran.

"If the peace we build is to succeed," the Governor declared, "It must reflect the will and understanding of the people."

That will and understanding can only be reached by telling the country the TRUTH.

Or does the Administration FEAR to tell the truth to the American people because if it were known what has been agreed upon in secret it would knock into a cocked-hat the Sixteen-Years-in-the-White-House plot?

Good and Timely Advice

JUDGE WILSON of the Suffolk Probate Court has voiced a warning that every father and mother should read and remember. Passing judgment on a case a few days ago, Judge Wilson declared:

"A girl of sixteen years of age ought to be in school, preparing herself for something that will be useful after the war."

Too many parents make the mistake of thinking that their teen-age sons and daughters are helping the country when they abandon studies to accept employment in industry.

Actually, the youngsters do nothing of the kind. They are more apt to restrict their development, deprive themselves of the opportunities for leadership open to them, and risk prolonged unemployment when the emergency ends.

Fathers and mothers who want their sons and daughters to be useful citizens should insist that they stay in school.

THIS was requested by Navy wife. It recalls the song, "Love Walked In," which Kenny Baker sang so well. Have a letter from Lieut. Baldwin, who is with the fighting forces, but his address is so blurred I can't make it out. This puts me in a spot. I wouldn't want a fighting man to think I wouldn't answer his letter, but what can I do? Lieut. Baldwin mentions his "lovely wife Ruth" and says she lives in Pittsburgh, but doesn't give her address. If anybody in Pittsburgh knows this lieutenant's wife, please ask her to send me his address.

On June 28, 1907, when Branch Rickey was catching for the Yankees, the opposing team stole 13 bases. Shortly after that Mr. Rickey resolved to become a business manager. . . . Six Vice-Presidents of the United States have become Presidents through the deaths of Presidents. In nominating a man for Vice-President, an effort should be made to name a man whose general ability is equal to that of the presidential nominee.

PASSING BY: Richard Maney. Theatrical press agent. At the beginning of his career he was advised by Kelsey Allen, dramatic critic, that a good way to attract attention was by quoting Shakespeare in places frequented by newspapermen. The idea worked out nicely.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q.—Am a Californian and a Louisville friend of mine has asked if I want him to place a bet for me at the track on Kentucky Derby day. What horse do you recommend? A.—I still like Flatter, the noble animal I mentioned some months ago. However, as a Californian, you should consider the California horse, Shut Up. He looks pretty good. Don't get him confused with Stir Up. The name is Shut Up. Q.—You mention famous male impersonators, notably Della Fox, Vesta Tilley and Kathleen Clifford. Have you forgotten Ella Shield's Burlington Bertie? A—

Mister, I am ashamed to admit I never heard of Ella Shields. Q.—Send me a stogie at once. You claimed Grace Moore was in the "Music Box of 1923." That was Florence Moore. A.—No stogie for you. Grace was in the "Music Box Revue of 1923." However, I think Florence Moore was in it, too.

ASIDES: A star gazer says Aries-born persons "are easily fooled by members of the opposite sex." Mary Pickford and Gloria Swanson are Aries born. Have never heard of Mary or Gloria being fooled by a member of the opposite sex; especially in business deals. . . . In Switzerland the term of president is one year. A Swiss president can serve more than one term, but not in consecutive years. . . . It is beginning to look as if Mr. Churchill was not fooling. . . . President Roosevelt wishes to call attention to the fact the name of his dog is spelled with only one l, that is, Fala.

My Day By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Wednesday.—Now that I am back in the United States, I would like to sum up the Impressions which remain after my recent trip to the Caribbean and South America plus an excursion into the Pacific.

My principal impression is of the weariest that our men feel as they are kept waiting and watching for long, long periods, without the stimulus or even the expectation of quick action. The men want and probably need change. A rotation policy has been under discussion, which, if put in operation, would bring some of them home in regular order.

FIRST THE DIFFICULTIES of transportation have to be recognized, but one does hope that some definite rotation policy may be established.

In view of the tropical climates in which all these boys exist, and in view of the fact that it is hard to remain alert on a job which is purely a waiting and watching one, life becomes exhausting.

OUR BASES in the Caribbean are well established. The men are as comfortable as they can be under existing military and climatic conditions. They have two prime obligations—one to watch so that no enemy airplane or submarine can get into the area undetected; two, to build up better relationships for the United States on the island and on the mainland so we will have friends to help us meet our problems.

In this area there are grave economic questions which have never been considered jointly in the past by all the nations interested in the Caribbean. A commission has been studying these problems, and recently a meeting has been held for the purpose of discussing our joint problems.

18 Cream Banishes Wrinkles

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

IT IS INDEED an agreement with reality . . . that "out of the mouths of babes comes wisdom" . . . For, more often than not . . . youngsters wake up to a personal accuracy . . . which we girls are wont to be blind to . . . or pass off as "the inevitable" about our skin.

At a luncheon the other day . . . a girl friend confessed to her five-year-old's brilliant remark . . . ashamed that the truth was apparent to him but not to her . . . and, I don't need to add she has already taken corrective measures.

The incident is so apropos to beauty wisdom . . . that I preface this story about a remarkable anti-wrinkle cream with the lad's startling observation.

After quizzically staring at his mother and Mary, the maid, the youngster . . . with honest juvenile bluntness . . . blurted out: "Mummy, you're old." The amazed parent was both surprised and shocked. She isn't so old either . . . that she has to resort to "lavender and old lace."

"Why, son?" she queried with bated breath. And, the retort classic came from that little fellow's lips: "Because you have wrinkles, Mummy, and Mary hasn't!"

FAREWELL TO LINES

Originally, this cream concentrate was made in Vienna for the beautiful women of the continent. Imported to this country by a beautician noted for her exclusive and exquisite preparations . . . it first sold for an outlandishly exorbitant price.

But, later this authority whose traditional fame is a beauty byword . . . purchased the formula from the Viennese scientist . . . brought the cream to this country . . . and compounded it to sell for a price within the reach of all women who take pride in their facial youthfulness. It costs only three dollars a jar.

The most difficult skins . . . wrinkled and lined and dry . . . have been known to respond most effectively to the lush goodness of this anti-wrinkle preparation.

LEAVE ON OVERNIGHT

On a thoroughly cleansed skin . . . pat this cream gently and smoothly upward and outward for a few moments . . . especially over the forehead, mouth, about the eyes and on the neck . . . wherever there is the slightest sign of a wrinkle or fine line or dryness . . . and leave on overnight. Be careful, however, not to get it too close to the eyes. Regular nightly use of this cream will repay your efforts handsomely, I assure you.

For the name of this specific anti-wrinkle cream concentrate, phone the Beauty Dept., LJBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American. Inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Untrue Gossip About Wife

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: I have been married for two years to a man now in the armed forces. His parents opposed our marriage and have done everything they could to separate us. They've even tried to get a certain boy to date me so they can get their son to divorce me. They write him things that aren't true and he believes them.

He now writes me that he doesn't care if they send him overseas and that he doesn't care if he never comes back. He has lost faith in me, just because of the untruths his parents have written to him. I've never been untrue to him.

What can I do? How can I make him believe me instead of listening to the stories his family writes about what I'm doing in his absence? I'm so unhappy over it all. I'm only 19.

Styles for the Tall Girl

By BETTINA BEDWELL

THE girl who has to watch her step most carefully, wending her way among the new spring fashions, is the big girl. The girl who is taller than most faces a really tough spot getting into the super-narrow, super-short spring silhouette.

She is the one who has to find those dresses, coats and suits with some easing up of the tube silhouette, or she is just plain out of luck. For a girl who is very tall that special fashion, the short tunic coat, is a boon and a blessing. Such coats are belted, or have sashes at the waistline, and they are never more than fingertip length, so the extra length of her body-lines is broken nicely.

In a suit, she can wear the suit with a peplum jacket, or other methods that break the long, narrow line. And in her dresses she has to seek and find some such method of breaking up the long, long line.

HELP FOR MENU PLANNERS

Serve Spanish Eggs

By MARTHA LEE

WE'VE BEEN ENJOYING an unusual abundance of eggs this winter—more than this country has ever had before. And at the present state of laying we can look forward to the possibility of almost an egg a day for every civilian this year, despite the fact that military and lend-lease needs are heavier.

Egg prices this spring are reasonable compared to the prices of some other protein foods such as meat, fish, poultry and cheese. The supply of some of these other protein foods too, is short, so eggs are a veritable life-saver for menu planners.

SPANISH EGGS

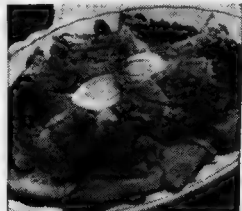

1 cup soft enriched white bread crumbs 2 cups tomatoes
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
1/4 cup sliced onions
1/4 cup sliced green pepper
6 hard cooked eggs
6 slices enriched white bread, toasted 1 tsp. salt
Melt butter or margarine, add onions and green pepper and cook until soft. Add bread crumbs, tomatoes and salt, and simmer gently until thick, about 15 minutes. Cut eggs in quarters and add to tomato mixture. Serve on buttered toast. Makes 6 servings.

SWISS RING MOLD

1 onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
3/4 cups cooked rice
Salt and pepper
1 1/2 cups grated Swiss cheese
6 eggs Butter Parsley
1/4 cup milk
Cook onion and green pepper in butter. Add tomatoes and rice; cook slowly until rice has absorbed the liquid. Add seasonings and grated cheese. Pack into a buttered ring mold; keep hot. Scramble eggs with milk and butter. Unmold the rice and fill center with the scrambled eggs. Garnish with parsley.

FRENCH OMELET

6 eggs 1/4 tsp. salt
Dash pepper
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
Beat eggs just enough to mix whites and yolks; add salt and pepper. Heat butter in an omelet pan, pour a little of it into the beaten eggs and reheat the remainder. Turn eggs into pan and as mixture cooks on the bottom and sides, prick it with a fork so that the egg on top will penetrate the cooked surface, and run under the sides. While the eggs are still soft, but thickened, fold over, let stand a few minutes till brown and turn onto a hot dish. Makes 6 servings.

Variations may be made by adding one of the following to the omelet before it is cooked:

Anchovy: Omit salt and add 1 teaspoon each of anchovy paste and minced parsley.

Creole: Cook 3 onions, chopped; 4 tomatoes, diced; 3 green peppers, chopped; 1 teaspoon paprika in 2 tablespoons olive oil until vegetables are tender. Serve with French omelet.

Mushroom: Add 1/4 cup chopped mushrooms to eggs before cooking.

CHINESE POACHED EGGS

1 cup rice 1 cup milk
2 tbsp. flour 6 eggs, poached
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
Salt and pepper
1 tsp. grated onion
1 tsp. chopped celery

Cook the rice in boiling salted water. Drain and blanch. Prepare a white sauce by melting butter and blending in salt, pepper and flour. Add milk, salt, pepper, grated onion and chopped celery. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Arrange hot rice on platter, place eggs on top and cover with sauce. Garnish with paprika and parsley. Makes 6 servings.

Use tomato or mushroom sauce instead of white sauce.

WELL DESERVED VERBAL ORCHIDS were tossed at several women who devote many useful hours to the British Workshop Division of BWRS, at the fourth birthday party of the workshop at the Women's Republican Club yesterday.

Mrs. William Endicott, chairman, expressed her admiration for the loyalty of the workers and announced that over half a million garments have been sent to England. Eric Underwood, British author who was guest speaker, extended his personal gratitude for all the help the workshop has sent to his countrymen.

Miss Grace Robinson, director of the Brookline branch, had a pretty English guest, Mrs. Cuthbert Rogers, who intrigued everyone by wearing a monocle. They lunched at a table with Mrs. Roger I. Lee, Mrs. Roger Ernst, Mrs. Daniel Tyler, Jr., Mrs. Francis Brewer, Mrs. Russell Norton, Miss Louise Hooper and Mrs. Albert Bigelow.

Up from Middleboro for day of partying and shopping was Mrs. Fred Southwick who directs the workshop in her home town. Her guest was Mrs. Russell Perkins, also of Middleboro. Both wore aqua crepe dresses, the former with navy blue accessories and the latter with burgundy hat and gloves.

Others attending were Mrs. Charles S. Bird in a spiffy char- treuse tweed jacket with black skirt and Dutch bonnet, Mrs. John S. Ames in a bottle green ensemble, Mrs. Daniel deMenocal, Mrs. Leopold Peavey, Mrs. Augustus Rantoul whose springlike navy sheer wool had a polka dot vestee, Mrs. Ellery Sedgwick and Mrs. Charles F. Howard.

GLIMPSED at the United China Relief dinner honoring vice-consul Kung-Shou Wang at the Copley Plaza—charming Mrs. Wang carrying on an animated conversation with the Governor and Adm. Theobald at the head table and wearing a soft feminine blue native dress—her page boy coiffure was caught in a net and adorned with clusters of flowers, blue on one side and yellow on the other—Mrs. Edward Jackson Holmes, with a collar of real lace from her fabulous collection adorning her black chiffon dinner gown. Mrs. Jasper Whiting wearing black with crisp ruffled organdie at the neckline.

Mrs. Louis Curtis, Mrs. James Carter in a brilliant flowered print, Mrs. William Walter Phelps in turquoise with big pink roses at the neckline, Rosamond Higgins in a springlike evening gown of black and white, and Mrs. James Lawrence, Jr., with touches of Mayflower pink brightening her black, were others present.

Here's your chance to look younger again!

It's true... you may look younger... soon! For Endocrine has found the vitalizing substance that gives the "bloom" to pretty young skin! As this substance decreases, skins start to dry and look older.

But now the Endocrine laboratories have found you a counterpart of this substance! It is called ACTIVOL... brought to you only in ENDOCRINE. When it is absorbed by the skin, results are often astonishing! Skins which seemed "old" usually look younger again! There's nothing else like it... for helping to firm and freshen skin! Only 11 1/4¢ a day, for this precious ingredient! So don't miss your chance to use ENDOCRINE!

Day-long Baking gives these Beans their Delicious Flavor

To get their extra-delicious flavor... their genuine, old-fashioned, New England goodness... B & M Brick-Oven Baked Beans (unlike the ordinary kind) must bake ever-so-slowly, all day long, in brick ovens and in open bean pots.

That's why... even with our ovens again baking these famous Down East treats... we cannot hurry them to your Grocer or you.

Remember that. And, whenever your Grocer is temporarily out of these hearty, better-tasting B & M Brick-Oven Baked Beans, bear in mind his supply is limited... and please be patient. Burnham & Morrill Company, Portland 2, Maine.

'Allah Be Praised!' Fares Well in Shubert Premiere

By PEGGY DOYLE

Persian diversion with an assortment of New York dodges, Brooklyn accents, Broadway beauties and featured performers distinguishes young Al Bloomingdale's latest production contribution to the theater, "Allah Be Praised!"

At last night's well-attended, pre-Broadway opening at the Shubert, it was obvious that improvements had been made since the musical's not too salubrious tryout in Philadelphia. That "tightening" that is inevitably suggested for these far-flung musical comedy productions trying out here, there or elsewhere outside commuting distance of Broadway playgoers has been effected and the final curtain was run down a minute or so before eleven last night.

Wordiness and a Robinhood-barn circuitousness continue to afflict the book by George Marion, Jr., who is also responsible for the lyrics, some of which are too good to be muffed in the vocalizing. The chorus kept wrapping them up in cotton so that, except for an occasionally clearly enunciated and laughingly received line, the lyrics were a secret between their author and the singers.

Patricia Morison, Hollywood's patrician looking lovely who exchanged stage for screen success, returns to the footlights in "Allah Be Praised!" to share featured honors with Mary Jane Walsh, John Hoyt, Joe Faye, Edward Roeder, Milada Mladova, Evelynne and Beatrice Kraft, Anita Alvarez, Pittman Coury and Sheila Bond.

Miss Walsh, Providence's pride and Boston's ball of fire in the do-re-me department, has the edge on Miss Morison when it comes to taking the black-and-white notes in stride. She sings with authority, spirit and a nice voice, too, qualities that earmarked her musical comedy debut here some years back and established her as a star overnight.

Last night she was better than ever. Tomorrow and tomorrow night Miss Morison, whose beauty, charm and grace delighted the customers, doubtless will take a tip from the book and be more relaxed and in better singing form.

John Hoyt, whose priceless monologues have had local hotel supper-room patrons virtually in stitches, is smartly spotted in "Allah Be Praised!" as the Dartmouth fugitive-emir of minaret-crowned Sultanbad of four years hence. As a nightclub addict, who is louder if not funnier than the unfortunate performer, he is excellent. Throughout the evening's performance his suave comedy and all-around savor faire never failed him or the extravagantly appreciative audience.

Joe Faye, formerly one of the Old Howard's most comic Mr. Five-by-Fives, romps through the plot with a pan and a breathless fervor reminiscent of Terry Hart.

Less earthy are the Iersichorean contributions of Milada Mladova, the beautiful, little ballerina; Anita "Something For the Boys" Alvarez; Beatrice and Evelynne Kraft and pert Sheila Bond; all outstanding in their field.

JOAN FONTAINE, heroine of Charlotte Brontë's immortal love story, "Jane Eyre," is one of the screen's and Keith Memorial audiences' favorite actresses. Proof is the holdover engagement of the interesting 20th Century-Fox production, beginning today.

THE VOICE, making his screen bow, is to be seen today and throughout the following week on the RKO Boston screen in the Jack Haley-Michele Morgan co-starrer, "Higher and Higher"

20 HORROR GEMS AT TRANS-LUX

By DON WARD

Man and beast, there's a pretty gruesome lot of characters on the new Trans-Lux bill, where "Voodoo Man" concerns itself with zombies (in an "undead" state this time), and "Nabonga" and Buster Crabbe have weird and terrifying adventures deep in the heart of the jungle.

Bela Lugosi, John Carradine and George Zucco join icy hands as the gruesome threesome in "Voodoo Man." Here are all the standard shocks of the super-duper thriller, with pretty girls disappearing, a mad medico practicing mumbo-jumbo, and a brave young man riding to the rescue of the distressed damsels.

Buster Crabbe battles it out with a whole menagerie in "Nabonga." Buster can take on thrashing and ferocious alligators, or giant gorillas and come out on top every time. Now he's on the track of some jungle treasure to clear the family name, and of course encounters one of those beautiful girls, a sweet child of nature, protected by Nabonga, the gorilla.

Pretty Julie London is the beauty who lives so happily in the tropical wilderness, Barton MacLane is the fellow with his sinister eye on the jewels, and Fifi D'Orsay his gal pal.

New Scollay, Modern Olympia Film Bills

James Cagney, in the "Frisco Kid," Warner's two-listed Barbary Coast thriller, is now showing on the Washington St. Olympia and Scollay screens, together with "Uncensored." "Lassie Come Home," Metro's irresistible story of the devotion between a boy and his dog, with Roddy MacDowell, Edmund Gwenn, Donald Crisp, Dame May Whitty and Elsa Lanchester, is to be seen through the week at the Modern Theater.

75-Mm Inventor Dies

MADRID, March 30 (AP)—A Vichy dispatch to the Spanish press announced the death in Paris of Gen. Etienne De Ville, whom it identified as the inventor of the 75-millimeter gun.

RELIEF FROM Headaches and Dizziness

Associated with HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

G.P.L. TABLETS have never been sold as a cure for High Blood Pressure. They are to be considered at all times only as aid to the relief of the painful headaches and dizziness associated with High Blood Pressure.

Through the use of a special process and their chocolate coating they are without taste and odor and may be taken freely without causing harm to the system.

G. P. L. Tablets often aid in providing an easy and quick means of relieving distress and headache associated with High Blood Pressure. These tiny, chocolate coated tablets are free from all dangerous drugs and may be carried in purse or pocket to be taken at any convenient time.

Beaumont G. L. P. Tablets also contain concentrates of lettuce, radish, parsley and dulse.

Changes in Cast Of 'The Magic Flute'

Ezio Pinza, and not the previously announced Nicola Moscona, will sing the role of Sarastro, Moscona taking over the high priest choral and Hertha Glaz, instead of Helen Olheim, singing the role of one of the three girls in "The Magic Flute," to be presented Tuesday evening, April 11, at the Opera House. The Boston Opera Association announcement also states that Moscona will sing the role of Ramfis in "Aida" Friday evening, April 14, instead of Norman Condon.

'Allah Be Praised!' Fares Well in Shubert Premiere

By PEGGY DOYLE

Persian diversion with an assortment of New York dodges, Brooklyn accents, Broadway beauties and featured performers distinguishes young Al Bloomington's latest production contribution to the theater, "Allah Be Praised!"

At last night's well-attended, pre-Broadway opening at the Shubert, it was obvious that improvements had been made since the musical's not too salubrious tryout in Philadelphia. That "tightening" that is inevitably suggested for these far-flung musical comedy productions trying out here, there or elsewhere outside commuting distance of Broadway playgoers has been effected and the final curtain was run down a minute or so before eleven last night.

Wordiness and a Robinhood-barn circuitousness continue to afflict the book by George Marion, Jr., who is also responsible for the lyrics, some of which are too good to be muffled in the vocalizing. The chorus kept wrapping them up in cotton so that, except for an occasionally clearly enunciated and laughingly received line, the lyrics were a secret between their author and the singers.

Patricia Morison, Hollywood's patrician looking lovely who exchanged stage for screen success, returns to the footlights in "Allah Be Praised!" to share featured honors with Mary Jane Walsh, John Hoyerstadt, Joey Faye, Edward Roemer, Milada Mladova, Evelynne and Beatrice Kraft, Anita Alvarez, Pittman Coury and Sheila Bond.

Miss Walsh, Providence's pride and Boston's ball of fire in the do-re-me department, has the edge on Miss Morison when it comes to taking the black-and-white notes in stride. She sings with authority, spirit and a nice voice, too, qualities that earmarked her musical comedy debut here some years back and established her as a star overnight.

Last night she was better than ever. Tomorrow and tomorrow night Miss Morison, whose beauty, charm and grace delighted the customers, doubtless will take a tip from the book and be more relaxed and in better singing form.

John Hoyerstadt, whose priceless monologues have had local hotel supper-room patrons virtually in stitches, is smartly spotted in "Allah Be Praised!" as the Dartmouth fugitive-emir of minaret-crowned Sultanabad of four years hence. As a nightclub addict, who is looser if not funnier than the unfortunate performer, he is excellent. Throughout the evening's performance his suave comedy and all-around savor faire never failed him or the extravagantly appreciative audience.

Joey Faye, formerly one of the Old Howard's most comic Mr. Five-by-Fives, romps through the plot with a pan and a breathless fervor reminiscent of Terry Hart.

Less earthy are the terpsichorean contributions of Milada Mladova, the beautiful, little ballerina; Anita "Something For the Boys" Alvarez; Beatrice and Evelynne Kraft and pet Sheila Bond; all outstanding in their field.

JOAN FONTAINE, heroine of Charlotte Bronte's immortal love story, "Jane Eyre," is one of the screen's and Keith Memorial audiences' favorite actresses. Proof is the holdover engagement of the interesting 20th Century-Fox production, beginning today.

Giesler opened his defense after Judge J. F. T. O'Connor had denied his motion for a directed verdict of acquittal.

TOOK JOAN TO CLUB

Ruesch, who spoke with a guttural accent, said on direct examination that he remembered taking Miss Berry to the Players Club, a Hollywood night spot, on the night of Dec. 30, 1942, when she said she had a conference with Chaplin.

Q—How long were you two at the Players Club on that occasion? A—Twenty minutes to half an hour.

Q—Who left the club first? A—We actually left together, but went in different directions.

Q—Did you see her later that night or early the next morning? A—I saw her about 20 minutes later at the apartment of Lionel Vasco Bonini. I stayed only five minutes.

Q—Did you see her later that night or early the next morning? A—Yes about 2 or 3 a. m. in my apartment.

U. S. Atty. Charles H. Carr protested when Giesler asked Ruesch about Miss Berry's sobriety. "Suppose she was so drunk she couldn't walk," said the prosecutor, "it has no bearing on the case."

"SHE WAS NOT SOBER"

"It is very material to show whether she can recollect the events of that night to which she already has testified," replied Giesler hotly.

Carr withdrew his objection and Giesler continued:

"How long did she remain in your apartment?"

"Until 8 a. m.," the witness replied.

Q—What was her condition in respect to sobriety? A—She was in one of her states.

When Judge O'Connor ruled out the answer, Giesler inquired: "In respect to her sobriety, did you observe whether she was drunk or sober?"

A—She was not sober.

Q—Did you notice the appearance of her clothing? A—Her dress was quite disorderly. She was dirty. There was blood on her head. Her stockings were torn. She looked like she'd been lying in her own clothes. She was bleeding on both knees. One of her shoes had a heel missing. There was dirt on her.

On cross-examination, Carr asked Ruesch whether the incident hadn't occurred Dec. 13th instead of Dec. 30.

"I think it was the 30th," Ruesch replied, "I read it in my diary."

SAW JOAN FREQUENTLY

Getty, who preceded him in a brief five minutes on the witness stand, said that he was the owner—through the Getty Realty Co., of the Pierre Hotel, where Miss Berry stopped during her October, 1942, visit to New York city.

Giesler asked: "Are you acquainted with Miss Joan Berry?"

"Yes."

"In 1941 did you see her in Los Angeles frequently?" After a prosecution objection had been overruled by the court, Getty answered "Yes."

The court immediately barred a question as to whether Getty had seen Miss Berry frequently in Mexico City from January to March, 1941.

Giesler then asked: "In Tulsa, did you see Miss Berry in November, 1942?"

"Yes," replied Getty.

Getty was excused from further questioning after the court refused to allow him to answer a question as to whether he had seen Miss Berry in Brownsville, Texas, in December, 1941.

Two veteran Chaplin Studio employees testified that Miss Berry had told them late in September, 1942, just before she went to New York that "she was through with pictures."

Ruesch Testimony Gives Trial Drama

By MARGARET BUELL WILDER

(Noted writer and author of the best seller, "Since You Went Away") (Copyright, 1944, by Los Angeles Examiner)

LOS ANGELES, March 30—The few minutes which Hans Ruesch was on the stand at the Chaplin trial were definitely the most dramatic in a long day of disconnected dramatic effects.

Heralded by a short-lived wave of suspense, Joan Berry's youngest admirer ascended the witness stand on the departing heels of J. Paul Getty, the multi-millionaire oil magnate who had revealed nothing under questioning beyond the fact that he had at one time seen a good bit of the auburn-haired actress.

Ruesch, being younger, a continental type and a writer, embodied for the courtroom kibitzers considerably more romance as a possible companion of Miss Berry than his immediate predecessor on the stand had done.

GIVES CONFUSED ACCOUNT

Dark, thirtyish, his sharp nose sniffing as if to see in which direction it should go next, Ruesch managed to give a pretty confused account of himself under cross-examination.

In fact, his confusion was so marked after several conflicting statements had been brought to his notice he looked actually alarmed when Mr. Carr shot the innocent question at him concerning his present residence. "Why, I live at Pasadena," he replied Mr. Ruesch, as if the statement surprised him more than anyone else.

"At the Huntington hotel?" persisted Mr. Carr with relish.

And Ruesch, admitting that this was so, though still in evident confusion as to why it shouldn't be, was then pressed into the admission that he not only lived at the Huntington but occupied a bungalow.

"Who pays for it?" snarled Mr. Carr.

Whereupon the witness, facially struggling between a choice of proper expressions, made a last-second grab at his dignity in the manner of a man who isn't sure whether or not he has just been accused of something wrong.

"Why, I guess we do," murmured Mr. Giesler reluctantly.

And Ruesch, caught in midair with his gesture of "who knows?" looked with relief at his rescuer.

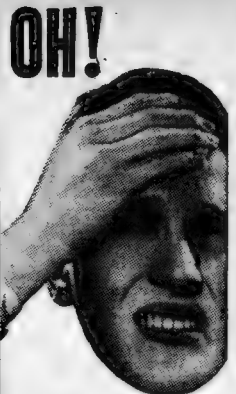

PRESSED FOR DETAILS

When pressed for explicit information on the subject of his diary by Mr. Carr, the writer made more fluttering gestures.

"I held it in my hands referring to certain passages," he said when the FBI men visited me," he said with dignity. And went on to add, with all an author's plaintiveness, that if the FBI had wished to hold it in their hands, he would have been happy to oblige them.

By this time the diary had begun to emerge from the mists in capital letters. What was this diary, exactly? What did a man keep a diary for, anyway?

The courtroom, puzzling with Mr. Ruesch over the matter of his secret writing and unexplained

Ploesti could be bombed round-the-clock and wiped out from Russian bases in short order.
Nobody seems to know the answer to this mystery. German scientists admittedly have gone far in production of synthetic gasoline, chiefly from coal. But so far as is known a synthetic source of lubricating oil so necessary for air and mechanical warfare has not been developed.
MAY ENCIRCLE FIELDS
Are Hitler's oil reserves distant from Ploesti so great that the Allies have decided destruction of the Rumanian fields would have no material effect upon the war's outcome? Military intelligence may have made that discovery. But the public hasn't been informed of it.
So many inexplicable occurrences recently in the field of Russian diplomacy have focused attention on the failure to strike at the Ploesti target.
There is a possibility Russia may hope, by a swift advance south along the prut, to encircle the fields at the base of the Carpathians and capture them intact. This is not in accord with Russia's practical tactics, however, for all oil fields in the line of enemy advance are mined and blown up in the face of the invader.
No. The real reason would seem to have some connection with the failure of Russia to bomb Ploesti last August and her refusal to permit the U. S. to bomb Ploesti and other principal targets from Russian bases.

26 Pal Reed to Help Train Navy Men at Brown

By JACK CONWAY

"PRIDE MAKES men win in athletics and in war," Pal Reed, Navy specialist who was recently transferred from Dartmouth to Brown declared during a visit to Boston. Reed dropped in at the press room at police headquarters to visit with his pal, Frank McLean, police reporter for this newspaper.

McLean called this writer on the telephone and told me Reed wanted to say hello. I had seen Reed in his early bouts at the old Commercial A. C. when he was in the navy and had later watched him in action when he battled in the biggest arenas in the country.

When war came, it was natural that Reed should return to the navy. Pal has the distinction of being one of the few boxers who ever received a college degree after quitting the boxing game.

"I always felt I had a slight inferiority complex, which I liked what I considered a proper education," said Pal. "This is why I first studied at Harvard and then at the University of New Hampshire after I retired from the ring. I received a degree from the University of New Hampshire."

Reed rates Harry Greb as the toughest fighter he ever fought. "Greb could do most anything in the ring," said Reed. "He punched from all angles, while he was tireless."

"Tiger Flowers did well on account of his long arms, but he found Jack Delaney had longer arms than himself. Delaney was a terrific puncher, and had Flowers' number."

"When I fought Delaney in the New York Garden, I took his Sunday punch without giving ground."

"One of the most unusual happenings in my ring career was the night I fought Mickey Walker at the Arena for the late Tom Goodwin. I broke my ankle during the bout, and was knocked out as a result of this injury. At the time few people believed that I met with such an injury and it was necessary for me to show X-rays to prove my case."

Earned $80,000 in Ring

REED EARNED $80,000 in the ring.

"I wasn't a spendthrift, but I liked to help out my friends who were in need," said Pal, "and this cost me considerable money. I had done pretty well for a youngster who had come from a Minnesota farm. My years in the Navy helped build up my naturally powerful body."

"When my ring career ended, I decided to get an education. I first studied physical education at Harvard, then attended New Hampshire University where I received a degree."

"As a Navy specialist, I am back teaching boxing among other things. Under our system, we can teach 1000 boys at a time. I find that youngsters who have never boxed make more rapid progress than those who have done some amateur boxing. Many of these boys continue with boxing after they have finished their courses."

"These novice boxers have the same kind of spirit I possessed when in the ring. I am interested in winning a championship than I was in the money I got from my bouts. Pride makes one win in athletics as in war. With so many fine athletes in the armed services, we shall win the war sooner and in more decisive fashion than would otherwise be the case."

Much Football Interest

REED DECLARED there is great interest in athletics at Dartmouth, and he feels he will find the same condition prevailing at Brown.

"The Notre Dame-Dartmouth football clash next October should be one of the high spots of the season," declared Pal. "I hope my schedule at Brown enables me to get time off to attend the contest. I'll be out there rooting for Dartmouth."

Sun Beau Buried In Front Lawn Grave

DOSWELL, Va., March 30 (AP)—Sun Beau, the 19-year-old thoroughbred bay race horse who had earned $376,744 for his owner, the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer of Binghamton, N. Y., died at Meadow Farm.

The horse was buried shortly afterwards in a grave on the front lawn of the estate of C. T. Cheney, where a monument will be erected to his memory.

4-F Job Draft Threat To Major League Clubs

By LAWTON CARVER

The 4-F baseball planned by the major leagues for the coming season faces another obstacle and one that conceivably could halt the proceedings abruptly at any given moment. Scheduled to be essentially 4-F, if at all, baseball may find this pool-dried of talent by the new regulations proposed to take the rejects into defense plants.

They are preparing to draw up a bill in Washington to bolster war production and the armed forces, as you no doubt have noticed, and all they have to do is make a few swipes among the 4-F's now in training to eliminate so much man-power from the diamond that even nine men on a club would be a rarity.

The speedup of the draft since last season, coming on the top of previous player losses, left few clubs with any standout performers. Most have been building around over-age and under-age players, plus 4-F's, with the latter in the majority.

Meantime, the majors have dipped so freely into minor league talent, combined with the military draft, that the few remaining circuits outside the big time may disband. It hasn't reached a critical point yet. But the 4-F draft for filling essential jobs figures to be a clincher.

I am presuming that baseball players will not be given any special deferments, and that for them to work in war plants while playing baseball on the side would be impractical.

The exact form of the bill to cover the situation will be determined in the future, but, meantime, the War and Navy Departments have said in blunt terms that they want some action. They will get it by April 12. The bill is to be ready by then.

SCHOOLBOYS' THINGS?

Among other reasons this quick turn leaves as so many wasted words the recent arguments over which club had the most and the best 4-F's. Clubs which have banked upon 4-F's—rather than the over-age and under-age gents—will be the ones hardest hit, the way it looks now.

This also means that any players still holding out and working in war plants will stay where they are. It really begins to look as though the magnates who said they will play baseball even if they have to do it with schoolboys put their finger on it.

Johnson New Homer King?

By JOE CASHMAN

BATIMORE, Md., March 30—"Don't be surprised if the Red Sox have the leading hitter and home run king of the American League this year," chirped Joe Cronin today.

Was it skipper planning to return to lineup?

"That's a possibility," said Joe. "If some day I find myself with nobody else to play one of the infield or outfield positions, then I'll have to jump in there. But I'm not talking about myself."

"I'm talking about Bob Johnson. Look the league over and where will you find a better hitter?"

"Our great hitters have all gone to war. Williams, DiMaggio, Greenberg, Evers, Wright, Dickey, Gordon, Aprie, Travis. They're all in the arm forces."

"Who, of outstanding stick ability, is left? The Browns have Vern Stephens, the Tigers have Rudy York, the Indians have Geoff Heath, the A's have Dick Siebert and the Senators have Stan Spence. That about completes the oppositions' list."

"Are any of those guys better hitters than Johnson? I have my doubts."

"Now the Indian is going to play his home games in a park that is made to order for his type of hitting. He can bunt ball over that left field wall at the Fens."

"Unless I miss my guess, he'd be the guy to beat in the home run race."

Since he was in a predictive mood, we pressed Cronin for his views of the A. L. pennant race. "The Senators will be the one to beat," he said.

"They have the pitching, Al Leonard, Roger Wolff and Joey Niggeling are 4-F and the tougher knucklers never went the same club. Yes, the Nats'll be tough."

His own club? "Wait till we see what happens to Doerr, Tabor and Lupien."

BIG HIT!

Coleman Silent on Braves Starting Lineup

By BILL GRIMES

WALLINGFORD, Ct., March 30—Although the Braves are winding up their second week of spring training today at the Choate School, Mgr. Bob Coleman has not even dropped a hint concerning the lineup of his club. Naturally, it can be presumed that Al Javery, who was the "ace" hurler last season, is the top ranking pitcher; Phil Masi and Clyde Klutznick will do the catching and that "Chuck" Workman will be in the outfield.

Along with Javery, Jim Tobin and Nate Andrews are in camp and we understand that "Red" Barrett, the other member of the "boys from Syracuse" duo, will be on hand when the regular season gets under way.

STARTING PITCHERS

Javery, Andrews, Barrett and Tobin were rated as the starting pitchers last season. They turned in 57 of the 68 victories the Braves chalked up in 1943. But, they are all in 1-A and therefore are apt to be called at any time.

Bob Coleman will have Carl Lindquist, Ben Cardoni, Billy Marshall, Hal Schacker and Vin Shupe as pitching replacements.

Coleman is giving the infield candidates ample opportunity to prove their worth.

Coleman started off with Kirby Farrell, Ben Geraghty, Billy Wietelmann and Connie Ryan in the first infield and they are still working as a unit. And, the same true of "Buck" Etchison, Steve Shemo, "Dee" Phillips and Mike Sandlock.

From the sidelines the second infield has an edge over the so-called first stringers. They are all big, rangy and fast. And, they also pack more of an offensive punch.

After watching them work out for a fortnight, we'd hazard a guess that the Braves will open the National League season with Etchison at first, Shemo, second, Wietelmann, short, and Sandlock at the hot corner.

Manager Coleman is also confronted with an outfield problem. He's satisfied that Workman is his ace outer gardener. "Chuck" is one of the most reliable players on the roster and he should have a fine year. But, will Workman again be assigned to right field or will he shift over to left? That is the big question. And, it cannot be answered until "Butch" Nieman lives up to his promise that he will show Coleman a brand of center field play that will clinch that job.

SPOT FOR HOLMES

In the event that Nieman comes through, Coleman—must find a spot for Tommy Holmes.

When the Braves open the season in the Polo Grounds, Nieman will probably be in center with Workman in left and Holmes in right. The fact that Workman throws right handed and Holmes is a southpaw thrower will be accountable for shifting the former to the opposite field from the one he played so well a year ago.

Golden Terror Loses Mask

Sandor Szabo of St. Louis unmasked the Golden Terror and won undisputed claim to the world's heavyweight wrestling championship before 10,000 persons at a Paul Bowser show at the Garden. The Golden Terror was revealed as Leo Mahabolski of Chattanooga, Tenn. The latter did considerable wrestling in the South before coming to Boston as the Golden Terror.

Coin Again

Jack Conway's Magic Coin was right again. It pointed to Szabo to unmask the Golden Terror in the Garden and that is what happened.

Szabo with the championship belt, he unmasked the Golden Terror. Leo Mahabolski was even a stranger to the writers in the press row. The Golden Terror had taken a punch at Galento before taking to unmasking. The defeated wrestler put on his mask before leaving the ring.

In a bout refereed by Jack Sharkey, Jack Clayburne and Joe Katlan went 30m. to a draw.

Home Ice Seen Aid to Wings

DETROIT, March 30 (AP)—Virtually eliminated from the Stanley Cup hockey playoffs in which they are defending champions, the Detroit Red Wings count heavily on the advantage of home ice in their hope of returning to winning ways against the Chicago Blackhawks tomorrow when the series returns to Olympia.

Beaten twice straight and down 3 to 1 in games to the surprising Hawks, Detroit faces a necessity of grabbing off three straight to survive the third round playoff and earn the right to play the Montreal-Toronto winner for the cup.

Chicago, meanwhile, needs only to win next Sunday at home to break up the series, regardless of whether Detroit comes back with a victory tomorrow.

The Wings, hexed by poor aim for the nets and a ragged defense for the playoffs got under way with a shade stronger for the Thursday game with return of defenseman Bill Quackenbush, who missed both titles at Chicago because of a knee injury.

Chicago may not be at top strength since wingmen Bill Mosienko and Harold (Mush) March both were hurt last night in the Hawks rolled to a 7 to 1 decision for their third win out of four starts in the best-of-seven series.

Red Cross Benefits In Hoop Title Game

NEW YORK, March 30 (INS)—The Red Cross will be the chief beneficiary and the winning team will be the virtual national champion when St. John's and Utah meet tonight in a hand-picked basketball game at Madison Square Garden.

St. John's won the national invitation tournament and Utah took the N. C. A. A. crown in tournaments completed in the big arena during the last few nights.

Jack Conway's column of sports appears every day in the Boston American.

Hub Boys Box At Edwards

Army units at Camp Edwards will give a warm welcome today to 40 boy pugilists who will take part tonight in the finals of the boxing tournament sponsored by the Massachusetts Youth Committee and Director William M. Mullen, of the Park Recreational Dept. of Boston.

Capt. Darlan Shell, in charge of athletes and recreation for the 1st Corps Command, has arranged a program which will make a hit with the youngsters. Army officials have co-operated with enthusiasm to make the event memorable. The boy boxers and their attendants will leave Forest Hills at 3 p. m. in a Greyhound bus.

After a sight-seeing tour of Camp Edwards, they will be served supper in a mess hall. Eighteen final bouts in classes from 75 to 135 lbs. will start at 8 p. m. Each class carries an alternate. The boys, through weeks of intensive training at neighborhood gymnasiums have looked forward to the honor of sparring here. The preliminaries were held before wounded veterans of World War II, U. S. Marine Hosp., Brighton, and the semi-finals were staged Tuesday night for the entertainment of Coast Guardsmen in the gymnasium on Constitution Wharf.

Galan Joins Bums, West Point Tilt Off

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., March 30 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, whose game with the West Point Cadets was postponed, received the good news that Augie Galan, prominent holdout, was on his way to camp from California. Manager Leo Durocher said that Galan, when his contract affairs are settled, will start training as an outfielder but may possibly be assigned to second base.

Fall River Bout

Larry Pacino of Roxbury, who has been inactive from ring affairs due to a bad hand, gets back into action tonight at the Fall River Casino when he faces Don Parrish of New York over the 10-round route. Before the injury retired him to the sidelines the Roxbury boxer had won 11 fights out of 15 by the K. O. Route.

Snow Stops Tigers

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 30 (AP)—A biting wind and snow flurries gave the Detroit Tigers an enforced day of rest. Manager Steve O'Neill announced he would Pitch Elton Hoggsett, 40-year-old southpaw seeking to regain the Detroit relief pitching job he relinquished in 1936, for three innings in the exhibition with the Chicago Cubs Sunday.

27th Birthday For Man O' War

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 30 (INS)—The 27th birthday of Man O' War passed quietly in contrast to the pre-war parties that marked the date of his being foaled.

"Big Red" enjoyed his daily four-hour gallop on his paddock while a number of visitors looked on, recalling that the famous stride brought 20 victories in 21 starts.

During those races Man O' War established five American time records. Two of them were world records.

The wonder horse is spending his declining days in a private paddock on the Farway Farm of Samuel D. Riddle. He is under the watchful eye of his longtime groom, Will Harbut.

Dodds on Air

NEW YORK, March 30 (AP)—Gil Dodds, Boston divinity student and the world's fastest indoor mile runner, returned to the scene of some of his greatest triumphs Saturday night when he addresses a "Youth for Christ" meeting in Madison Square Garden. The movement is sponsored by the radio program "Word of Life Hour."
